STORM SETS NEW RECORD

HEAVIEST IN LOCAL HISTORY

Interesting Comments by Mr. Blumer on Rainfall of Past Week

Rainfall for the corresponding period in season 1911-12, 1.35 inches.

The recent storm, which began soon after mid-day on February 23, and finished about 1:30 p.m. on the 25th, was of so unusually severe a character that it is thought worth while to set out the record in fuller detail than usual. It will be observed that the precipitation for the first 24 hours of the storm, that is at noon on the 24th, was no less than 6.36 inches, the heaviest rainfall for any 24 hour period during the 25 years in which a regular record of the rainfall in Sierra Madre has been maintained. The nearest approach to this was on January 27, 1903, when 6.18 inches of rain fell in 24 hours and the total for the storm was 8.88 inches. The next nearest record was on November 29, 1900, when the fall in 24 hours was 5.40 inches and the storm record 7.47, while on February 1, 1905, the 24 hour record was 4.88 and the storm 8.20.

The most noteworthy feature in connection with our recent storm is—thanks to incorporation as a city, and to the curbing and guttering of the main north and south streets—the small amount of damage done to the thoroughfares of the city.

The rainfall for the storm of November 29-30, 1900, was, it will be observed, considerably less, being only 7.47 inches compared with 10.28 this week. But the damage in November, 1900, was very great. The water company's pipes in the Little Santa Anita Canyon were torn out, rocks and gravel were backwashed into the tunnels, while the whole aspect of the bed of the canyon was changed. Many of the uncured and unguttered north and south avenues were cut into deep gullies, the total damage taking months to repair.
This was partly due to the fact that the downpour in November, 1900, was at times most violent, amounting indeed, to an actual cloudburst, when the canyon was torn and changed almost beyond recognition.

Nevertheless there is no doubt that our present serviceable curbs and gutters—had they been in existence in 1900—would have afforded the same protection to adjoining property that they did during the recent week.

NEW FIRM TAKES STORE

Merrill & Dow is the firm name of the latest concern to enter business community, Messrs. Frank Merrill and W. S. Dow having purchased the stock and equipment of the store which has been conducted the past three years by J. A. Patterson. Both partners in the firm are well and favorably known in Sierra Madre, having been engaged together in the masonry and cement contracting business for several years. This business will be continued as before. Both are young men of energy and business ability. Their friends will wish them a full measure of success in their new business venture.

IOWA PICNIC TOMORROW

On account of the rain last Friday and Friday night the annual Iowa would be held on the date originally set so there was a small sized picnic at Eastlake Park, Los Angeles regardless of the announced postponement.

But the official picnic with pregram, election of officers and the big crowd will take place at Eastlake Park tomorrow, March 1.

BRAVE FIGHT ENDED

PASSING OF BILLY GOTTLIEB BRINGS SORROW TO HIS MANY FRIENDS

William Gottlieb, familiarly known to his hosts of friends as "Billy," passed away last Saturday after a brave fight against disease lasting over a period of several years. His final summons brought sorrow to all who knew him, for all were his friends and had hoped against hope that he would win in his fight. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gottlieb of New York City, who were with him for some time prior to his death. They left on Tuesday for their home, taking the remains with them for interment.

Billy was twenty-seven years of age.
He first came to Sierra Madre about five years ago, spending several months here in 1908. Returning to New York, he engaged in the real estate business until failing health made it necessary for him to give up work. He returned to Sierra Madre two years ago and had spent most of the time here since.

By his open-hearted generosity and unfailing good nature Billy won a host of friends in Sierra Madre. He was always ready to lend a hand where it was needed and was particularly interested in public amusement enterprises. His was a familiar figure about town and his warm hearted greetings were always a source of good cheer. His bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of all who knew him in their loss.

AIDS TO PROSPECTING

FOREST RESERVES OFFER MORE ADVANTAGES THAN RESTRICTIONS

Every so often one sees the statement in newspapers "Prospecting for-bidden in the Forest Reserves." The attitude of the Forest Service is clearly defined by Chief Forester Graves, who says:

"Mining claims are perfected and new mining claims initiated under the same laws which apply on the unreserved public domain, and no restriction of any kind is imposed on the prospector in his search for valuable minerals. He may go freely where he pleases, and may stake out his claim wherever he finds indications that seem to him worth following up.
If he desires to build a cabin on Government land not included within the limits of his claim, he is given a free occupancy permit and free timber for its construction.

On his own claim he need only comply with the law to remain in undisturbed possession for as long a time as he may desire before making final proof. Both the timber and the forage on it are reserved for his use, in so far as he may need either in connection with the development of his claim.
If the supply on his claim is not sufficient for his needs, free use of national forest timber, and free range for his work animals, may be had for the asking. When he desires to make final proof no requirements are imposed upon him other than those laid down by the general mining laws of all public lands. Moreover, by the protection which national forest administration affords against fire and by the provision made for permanence of timber supplies for local needs, he gains both in security against fire loss and in insurance against the danger of having to bring timber from distant markets at a heavy cost in order to work his mine."

FLOWER SHOW NOTES

At the meeting of the Flower Show committee last Monday evening, the question of damage to trees and park-ways resulting from burros and horses was discussed. Allowing burros and horses to eat and trample plants in the parkways, and destroy young trees has resulted in damage in many parts of town. The committee authorized Mr. L. N. Ward to take up the matter with the city authorities.

The advisability of postponing the flower show one week was discussed, being favored because of the retarding of flower development resulting from the heavy, cold storm of the present week, and the protests because of the conflict with the dates of the Pasadena exhibit.

Gratification has been expressed that Mrs. C. W. Mitchell had taken charge of the central pergola and private tables, thus assuring to the center piece of the entire exhibit the benefit of her artistic ability and experience.

Mr. E. J. Webster who has consented to assist with the children's exhibit, offered encouraging and helpful suggestions. Professor Maltbie began preparations for the children's work several weeks ago, and planting and distribution of young plants is well under way, as is also the plan for the wild flower collecting, in which the teachers are assisting.

The list of assignments of the other departments of the festival work should be completed next Monday evening, when at eight o'clock a full meeting of all those interested in the festival is imperative. This will be preceded by a short business session of the executive committee at seven-thirty.

MANY MORE PHONES

INTERESTING COMPARISON MADE
AS NEW DIRECTORY
IS ISSUED.

Publication of a new directory for the Sierra Madre Telephone & Telegraph Company this week affords opportunity for some interesting comparisons with a directory printed just five years ago by the News Printery.
The new directory contains about 325 names, while the old one contains but 138 in the list. The proportion of duplications appears to be about the same in both lists. Office records show that 150 books were thought to be enough to provide for all new phones and extras likely to be called for during the quarter for which the book was issued. This week the News Printery turns over about 375 books to Manager Farman of the telephone company.

While inspection of the new list shows that the increase has been in part due to installation of phones by older residents, by far the greater increase has been due to the growth of the community. Hurried counting of the names in the 1908 book show that only about 65 of the 138 persons or families listed now remain in Sierra Madre. But of the 325 listed in the new book less than half resided in Sierra Madre at the time the older book was published.

In 1908 there were a dozen or two Sunset phones in Sierra Madre connected with the Pasadena exchange.
About two years later the Sunset company retired from the local field, leaving the independent local company in entire possession of the field. At the same time the local company made arrangements by which long distance connections could be secured anywhere on either Home or Sunset systems. Sierra Madre was one of the very first towns to secure that unusual privilege and is one of the few which now enjoy it, nearly all other cities and towns having two systems to contend with.

The prosperity of the local company is indicated by its great advance in equipment. In 1908 the plant occupied a little room about ten by fifteen feet, in the hotel building. There were the business office, exchange, shop and sleeping quarters of the night operator. The central energy system had not been installed and it was necessary to "crank-up" your phone before making a call. Since that time the company has erected its own unique building at the corner of Baldwin and Highland, where great advances have been in equipment. Further improvements were authorized some time ago by the directors.

BIG BANQUET TONIGHT

ANNUAL BOARD OF TRADE EVENT PROMISES TO BE LIVE-LY OCCASION

Preparations for the fourth annual banquet of the Sierra Madre Board of Trade indicate that tonight's event will be one of the most enjoyable of the series. The ladies of the Woman's Club have been actively at work several days preparing the menu and club house auditorium and no one who has sat down to one of their banquet tables in the past has any doubts as to the quality of the repast which will load the tables. Some good speakers will be present and delegations are expected from other organizations as far away as Pomona. As this is written on Thursday no definite statements can be made as to the number of tickets disposed of by the various members of the committee but it is expected about 125 will be seated at the tables.
It is the desire of the Board that every man in Sierra Madre be present and it is especially hoped that new comers will avail themselves of the opportunity to get acquainted.

TREE PLANTING MEETING

The meeting called by Mayor Jones, chairman of the park commission for last Monday evening was poorly attended, on account of the storm. Another meeting is announced for next Monday evening, at eight o'clock, in the club house parlors. So much time has been devoted to the endeavor to obtain the consensus of opinion regarding the choice of trees for the different streets that it would seem to be imperative that definite action should now be taken by the park commission, if any results are to materialize this Spring.

It is generally considered that after the meeting next Monday evening, the action of the park commission and the trustees should be mandatory and supported by all. Mr. E. J. Webster reminded those present last Monday evening of the wonderful results obtained in foreign cities and in Washington by following a general plan, dictated by a commission.

Let every one attend the meeting next Monday evening, and after full discussion, pledge support to the decision of the park commission.

FROM THE RIVER NILE

The News is in receipt of a postcard from Mrs. Martha Williamson who, in company with Miss Alice Lockwood, is enjoying a tour of the world.
The card was dated at Cairo, Egypt.
On it she says: "This is a most fascinating city, but a long way from beautiful Sierra Madre. We have had a fine trip all the way. Next week we go up the Nile. A friend sent us some copies of the News and it was such a comfort to read of all the good people at home."

HUGE GLASS IS PERFECT

100-INCH REFLECTOR COMPLETED

Mt. Wilson Observatory Will Have World's Two Largest Telescopes
in Two Years

That the hundred-inch lens, which has been undergoing polishing at the Santa Barbara street shops for several years, and which for a time seemed to embody flaws which would make it worthless, had been passed as perfect was stated by Professor George E.
Hale, director of Mt. Wilson Observatory, in a lecture delivered in Pasadena last night. This, he said would assure the establishment of the big telescope at Mt. Wilson, though it would be two or three years before the work would be complete. Foundations for the observatory building have been laid.

The original block of glass from which the hundred-inch lens has been fashioned weighed close to five tons.
It was imported from France. Its completion will assure to the Mr. Wilson Observatory the largest telescope in the world. The attention of scientists and astronomers will then be centered on the big mountain back of Pasadena, for it is expected that with the new equipment, wholly unknown heavenly bodies will be brought to view.

Will Open New Field

At the present time the largest telescope in the world, also on Mt. Wilson, measures sixty inches. With this hundred-inch reflecting telescope, so many rays of light will be gathered that it will be possible to see objects beyond anything that has been discovered till the present day.

"Observations at Mt. Wilson during the past year," said Professor Hale in his lecture, "prove the sun to be a magnet. Its magnetic poles lie near the poles of rotation and correspond in direction with the magnetic poles of the earth. The rotation of the sun on its axis accounts for the magnetism, on the theory that the sun contains nearly equal charges of positive and negative electricity, the negative charge being predominant. The magnetism of the sun has no appreciable effect on the earth."

HOME OF TRUTH

"The Faith that Moves Mountains" is the subject of the discourse to be given on Sunday, March 2, at three-thirty at the Home of Truth, 493 Auburn avenue. Harriet C. Hamor will conduct these meetings. Sunday School at two o'clock.

Easter is only three weeks away. It's time to be sending greetings to your distant friends. The habit is a good one and you will think so all the more when you see the display at THE NEWS PRINTERY.

Beautiful beyond description are the cards and folders shown. Some of them represent the highest development of the printing art. Others are hand colored. All are dainty and attractive—you must see the designs and read the sentiments to appreciate them.

With all the variety offered the prices run two for five cents, ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five and thirty cents. There are post cards and novelties, larger cards and folders with envelopes to match.

As to quality, the best and most exclusive shops in Los Angeles have nothing more beautiful, and nowhere are better values to be found. A visit to THE NEWS PRINTERY will delight and convince you.
Everything is laid out conveniently for your inspection. You are invited to come in early whether you wish to buy now, later on, or not at all.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The club is the fortunate recipient of a beautiful and valuable gift, a charming picture by Mrs. Elizabeth Borglum, an honorary member of the club. On behalf of Mrs. Borglum, Mrs. J. A. Osgood made the formal presentation in commemoration of the club's birthday month, February.

The formal taking over by the club of the property and liabilities of the Building Association, formed originally to make possible the financing and building of the club house, marks an important epoch in the history of club affairs. There is still a heavy burden of indebtedness which will now rest upon the club directly, the balance of the mortgage being three thousand, eight hundred dollars, bearing interest at seven per cent. Several hundred dollars additional has to be provided for at once. The need of a general rallying to the support of the club activities seems imperative, to assure to the community the benefits from the club enjoyed in the past.

The club endorsed a resolution protesting against the removal of protection from meadow larks, black birds and robins. It also empowered Miss Webster to write an endorsement of the bill providing for the establishment of state prison farms.

Plans were perfected at the last board meeting for the Board of Trade banquet, to be provided by the club this evening.

It is hoped that the music program unavoidably postponed on account of the storm may be heard later.

the world has never dreamed."

THE LOST CORD FOUND.

Seated one day at the accordion I was weary and ill at ease, And I noticed the neighbors also Were shaky about the knees;
But I pumped the bellows wildly, Until my teeth were loose,
And a wild-eyed delegation Broke in and used a noose.

"NUGGETS" FROM GEORGIA

Georgia must be, indeed, the cradle of journalistic genius. The "Dahlonga Nugget" comes to the News office this week and has given ye editor a half hour of rare pleasure.
The Nugget lacks the lengthy editorials of its neighbor, the Cleveland Courier, but nevertheless keeps in close touch with its contemporaries, as shown by the following editorial notes:

"The Clayton Tribune of last week said a dead chicken had been lying on one of her side streets for two weeks."

"Thomasville reports six feet of rain during 1912. This is why the cotton crop is short and people pressed down that way."

"Most of our weekly exchanges failed to come in, last week on account of the holidays, causing us to miss them and feel quite lonely."

But it is the familiar, even intimate personal note which is most unusual about "The Nugget". Wonder is aroused as to how such an editorial policy regarding the affairs of Sierra Madre people would be welcomed. Ouch! But even if the editor were to get killed, there are doubtless a lot of people who would gladly contribute such items about their neighbors. The following are gleaned from a page of personals:

The Pentecost people have split up here, holding services at two different places now, at the church and at Mr.
Tom McDonald's residence. They disagree about the doctrine.

Alexander Austin, col., is now in jail charged with lunacy, who will be tried on the 18th inst.

The Board of Education of Lumpkin County met last Wednesday, held nearly all day, and transacted quite a lot of business, some of which we will mention as follows: The salaries of teachers were fixed the same as last year—$26, $30, and $35, Etc.

Our picture will not appear in the Nugget any more soon, because last week when it did, our friend Walt Walters took it to be old Bill Miners, and was just about to lay down his shop hammer and go out and help arrest Uncle William, thinking that the old fellow had escaped from the chain gang again.

Last Friday was the coldest day this winter. And the wind coming from the high peaks of the Blue Ridge all white with snow made it very unpleasant for ye sockless editor and all others in like condition.

We are glad to learn that the dove of peace is hovering over Chestatee district in our county. Two married couples, John Turner and his wife, and David and Mrs. Seaboldt, who were separated for awhile, are now living together and all appear to be as happy as if their weddings had just occurred.

WHAT REMAINED

A month ago exactly Smith bought himself a car.
In which he meant to journey For pleasure near and far.

But little did he travel

Before he came to woe;
Its thingumbob was busted,
Its jigger wouldn't go.

Poor Smith is also damaged—

His walking gear is lame, His ribs are somewhat broken,
And out of joint his frame.

Amid the awful havoc

That blights his soul to view, One thing remains—the mortgage Is just as good as new.

CONSOLATION IN LOSS

Many housekeepers can sympathize, with the old Virginia lady who said to her friend, on finding a treasured old cup cracked by a careless maid:
"I know of nothing to compare with the affliction of losing a handsome piece of old china." "Surely," said the friend, "it is not so bad as losing one's children." "Yes it is, for when your children die you do have the consolation of religion, you know."—Ex.

NOT TO BE MATCHED.

The Duchess of Lauraguais, who was somewhat given to making poetry, could not think of a word to rhyme with coffee. Turning to Tallyrand, who chanced to be by her side, she said: "Prince, give me a rhyme to coiffe." "Impossible, duchess," replied Tallyrand, without a moment's delay:
"for that which pertains to the head of a woman has neither rhyme nor reason."—Ex.

Advertising and Ethics

From an Advertising Authority.

"A few years back bankers said it was undignified to advertise. Some red blooded individual, I know not who, broke through the crust, and now they are nearly all advertising. And both the bankers and the public have been immensely benefited.

"This is my message to men who say 'It is undignified to advertise in our business.'

"If you are honest, if your profession will stand investigation today, tomorrow, next week, next year, ADVERTISE. But advertise, as all who advertise successfully MUST—sincerely, honestly, consistently, constantly — and then DELIVER THE GOODS."

Now we have been criticized for advertising the Sierra Madre Building and Investment Corporation stock so strongly. Now what do you know about that?

Why shouldn't we advertise if we believe in it and can back up what we say with the goods? We merely tell you on paper what we can show you on the ground!

In our newspaper and circular advertising we have held to the most conservative statements, as you will learn by investigation.

Advertising ethics simply involve the question of making good.

Many people have satisfied themselves after investigation, and bought stock. When are you going to get yours?

North Whittier Heights Orange and Lemon Land On Easy Payments

North Whittier Heights begins at a point about two miles north of the city limits of Whittier, and lies well within the proven citrus area.

Young groves adjoining North Whittier Heights, on land less favorably located, were not seriously injured by the recent cold spell—which was the most severe in a quarter-century or longer.

North Whittier Heights Orange and Lemon Land is being sold in 5-acre tracts, with water, on terms that make it a most attractive investment.

A number of applications have already been made for land in North Whittier Heights. Among those who have made application are Pollard Bros., the well known nurserymen of South Pasadena, who expect to utilize their land for growing nursery stock, and for an exhibition grove of their recently developed Late Naval Oranges which they are preparing to exploit.

Other applicants are C. E. Cole, Thos. and Gustavus Deaver, of Puente; Jno. P. Moore, Whittier; Mr. Ackerman of Los Angeles; Thomas Kiddie of Northern California; Ernest H. Dement, and

E. W. Lawrence, of La Habra. Mr. Lawrence recently sold his lemon grove in East Whittier for $5,000 an acre, and has filed his application for 42 acres in North Whittier Heights.

The Whittier Extension Company, owners of North Whittier Heights, are expending about $125,000 in improving this property. These improvements consist principally in a water system, and will furnish all the water necessary for irrigation purposes. A separate system for supplying domestic water will be installed.

Residents of North Whittier Heights will not only benefit by being close to market, with exceptional shipping facilities; but will have every advantage of church, school and refined social surroundings. If you are ambitious to own a profitable orange grove home, you should by all means see North Whittier Heights—and investigate its many advantages and attractions.

TRACING SOURCES.

An investigation by the Forest Service shows that the 812 forest fires occurring on the California National Forests in 1912 were caused as follows:

Railroads	93
Lightning	206
Incendary	71
Brush Burning	42
Campers	98
Sawmills	29
Unknown	190
Miscellaneous	83

Forest fires may be divided into those caused by man and those caused by lightning; and a natural division of the fires caused by man separates those which are wilful or incendiary from those which are unintentional. One of the greatest fire dangers arises from the carelessness of travelers through the National Forests. Disasters fires have been started by so slight a thing as the careless tossing aside of a lighted match when lighting a cigarette or the knocking-out of still burning pipefuls of tobacco.

In 1912 there were 98 fires known to have started as a direct result of campfires left unextinguished—an increase of practically 33 percent over those from the same cause in 1911. As soon as a lookout reports a smoke to the Forest Ranger it is his first duty when arriving at a fire to assign a man to investigate the cause. By following up the tracks of careless campers those responsible for the fire are apprehended in the majority of cases.

Almost one-fourth of the forest fires were started by lightning; many by sparks from railroad locomotives; many by sawmills; while there are always numerous fires and those for which any evidence of the cause is destroyed by the fire itself. But with the greatly increased efficiency of the Forest Service patrol and fire fighting system, and the hearty co-operation of settlers and corporations whose homes and property are in the danger zone, each year shows great improvement in fire prevention and much quicker control of the fires that start.

THAT INITIATIVE PETITION

City Attorney Montgomery reported to the city trustees last night that he had had the winery initiative petition under consideration, and believed it was too broad as prohibiting the manufacture as well as sale of liquor. He preferred not to take the responsibility of determining what action would be legal for the board under the state statute and that he would take it up at once with the attorney general and report at the next meeting.
